The American Association for Cancer Research (AACR) and Moffitt Cancer Center, with support from the Association of American Cancer Institutes (AACI), are co-hosting this event to rally congressional support for and raise public awareness of the groundbreaking cancer research taking place at Moffitt Cancer Center and around the nation thanks to federal funding for the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the National Cancer Institute (NCI).

Topics will include the new national cancer initiative to be led by Vice President Biden, the president’s Precision Medicine Initiative, priorities for the NCI in 2016, Congressional efforts such as the 21st Century Cures legislation, and the progress in cancer research and treatment as experienced by patients.
