PROGRAM GUIDELINES

The AACR-Lobular Breast Cancer Alliance Invasive Lobular Carcinoma Research Challenge Grants is a joint effort to stimulate and develop creative, paradigm-shifting ideas in invasive lobular carcinoma (ILC) that have the potential to advance knowledge of lobular breast cancer detection, diagnosis, pathology, treatment, recurrence prevention, or surveillance.

Applications are invited from researchers currently in the field as well as investigators with experience in other areas of cancer or biomedical research.

Each grant provides $50,000 over one year for expenses related to the research project. Grant funds may be used for direct and indirect research expenses attributable to the project, which may include supplemental salary support, equipment, research/laboratory supplies, and other research expenses.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

All applicants with questions about eligibility should contact the AACR's Research and Grants Administration at grants@aacr.org before submitting an application.

By the submission deadline, applicants must be AACR Active members in good standing (dues paid for the current year):

- Information on AACR membership, including membership categories, dues rates, and steps for lapsed or nonmembers, can be accessed on our membership website.

- Assistance with membership can be requested by submitting a myAACR help form or by contacting our Membership Department at membership@aacr.org
- Applicants whose membership is not in good standing or nonmembers who do not apply for membership by the submission deadline will be considered ineligible.

At the start of the grant term (January 1, 2027), applicants must:

- Have a doctoral degree (PhD, MD, MD/PhD, or equivalent) in a related field.
- Be independent investigators.
 - If eligibility is based on a future position, the position must be confirmed at the time of submission and CANNOT be contingent upon receiving this grant. Applicants are advised to contact the AACR's Research and Grants Administration (RGA) at grants@aacr.org before submission to confirm they will hold an eligible position.
- Work at an academic, medical, or research institution anywhere in the world.
 - There are no citizenship or geographic requirements. However, by submitting an application for this grant, applicants applying from an institution in a country where they are not a citizen or permanent resident confirm that their work status will allow them to complete the project and grant term.

At the start of the grant term (January 1, 2027), applicants cannot:

- Be a candidate for a further doctoral degree.
- Be an employee or subcontractor of a U.S. federal government entity or for-profit private industry. They may serve as collaborators, but no grant funds may be directed toward these individuals.

 - Current AACR grantees may apply only if their current grant ends before the start of the grant term for this funding opportunity (i.e., January 1, 2027). Also, the terms of their current grant must stipulate that the final progress reports be approved by the AACR before January 1, 2027.

Investigators may submit only one application for this funding opportunity but may concurrently apply for other AACR grants. However, applicants are expected to accept the first grant they are awarded. Individuals may accept and hold only one AACR grant at a time.

AACR is obligated to comply with U.S. laws and regulations regarding research and related transactions in countries subject to US Government enforcement of economic and trade sanctions for particular foreign policy and national security reasons. If your proposed project involves US Government sanctioned countries subject to restrictions, please contact the AACR's RGA at grants@aacr.org.

The Committee will consider each year's applicants independent of previously funded proposals and the institutions of previous grantees.

TOBACCO INDUSTRY FUNDING AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST STATEMENT

Scientists and health professionals funded by the tobacco industry for any research project are not eligible for any AACR grant. An applicant who accepts funding from the tobacco industry for any research project during the term of an AACR grant must inform AACR of such funding, whereupon the AACR grant will be immediately terminated.

Tobacco industry funding is defined for purposes of AACR grant applicants and recipients as money provided or used for all or any of the costs of any research project, including personnel, consumables, equipment, buildings, travel, meetings and conferences, and operating costs for laboratories and offices. It is not defined as money provided or used for meetings or conferences that do not relate to a particular research project.

Tobacco industry funding includes: funds from a company that is engaged in or has affiliates engaged in the manufacture of tobacco produced for human use; funds in the name of a tobacco brand, whether or not the brand name is used solely for tobacco products; funds from a body set up by the tobacco industry or by one or more companies engaged in the manufacture of tobacco products.

The following do not constitute tobacco industry funding for the purposes of this policy:

- Legacies from tobacco industry investments (unless the names of a tobacco company or cigarette brand are associated with them)
- Funding from a trust or foundation established with assets related to the tobacco industry but no longer having any connection with the tobacco industry even though it may bear a name that (for historical reasons) is associated with the tobacco industry
